I see Green

A “job well done” is in order for all of the R.J Zavoral & Sons Inc. employees. Since the safety meeting all employees out in the field have been wearing their new green vest with pride. Thank you all for your co-operation on the new policy, and just remember... Think Safety.

Is that a culvert on your trailer?

If you are sent on a mission to run some pipe out past that big elm that Rick buried 10 years ago and then left, the directions are the least of your worries. Vicki is asking if you remove any pipe from either yard, (new, old or landfill) please write down on your time card what size and how much pipe you are taking out there. Once that job is done you can go back to finding that old elm.

More Crap to remember

To help us become a more organized operation we are going to keep some stuff in regular spots. From now on the Sign trailers and the water pumps have a new home, the old shop. If we store this equipment in the same spot all the time we will never misplace it.

May Birthdays

May is a slower month for Birthdays but it has some big names in it. This month features the man with the most nicknames, some of them I can't even write down, Jim Blanchette on May 6th. Also celebrating a birthday is Aaron “G” Gregoire who turned 20 on May 4th. From all of us at R.J. Zavoral & Sons hope you had a Happy Birthday.

Hard Hat Stickers

In this week's paycheck I have sent a copy of the new hardhat stickers. These stickers are yours to keep, so don't say I never gave you anything!

Another Word From Vicki

Now that we are working with the gravel and private trucks we need to pay closer attention to their sheets when we sign them out. Please make sure that on the sign out sheets there is the truck's name, number, load numbers, time of each load, the driver's name, and the time you signed them out. This will prevent problems in the future.

Dial A Ride

There is a new lowboy driver in town and a new phone number. Craig Severson has been running the western star most of spring already and is gearing up for the summer. The lowboy's new phone number, Craig too, and it is 739-4411. Commit this number to memory so you can dial a ride this summer.

I am so smart

Those are the words that are being said by two lucky ladies this spring. Carrie Enright, daughter of Randy Enright, is graduating from Sacred Heart High school on May 27th. Also this spring, Andrea Horken is graduating from Bemidji State with a teaching degree. Congratulations to both of you and the best of luck in the future.
